With a 5,000,000 bushel crop of American peanuts the average legislator need not feel despondent.

Aguinaldo has more lives than a cat. He is reported dead again. But he has never yet admitted that he was dead.

The "full dinner pail" doesn't seem to be cutting much of a figure in Porto Rico, where many people are dying for want of proper food.

A London man figures out the cost of the Boer racket at $650 a minute. And England isn't getting fun or profit enough out of it either for the money.

Is this more aping of England? Cronje and 2,000 of his men were sent to St. Helena and now Gen. MacArthur has sent a half dozen or so captured Filipinos to Guam.

The profession of steeple climbing is one that is not overcrowded and the ambitious, persevering young men who enters it stands a fair show of reaching an elevated position.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says Matt Quay "is as good as his party." There are lots of people who consider him oodles better, and don't regard him as a model, either.

In 1800 the farmer of this country plowed his land with a wooden plow, sowed grain by hand, harvested with a scythe and threshed with a flail. In some parts of the world they do that yet.

Not counting the money which England has spent in her land-grabbing in South Africa, she has lost 604 officers and 11,554 men, leaving out the invalids sent home, and she is not done losing money or men yet.

The late Phil Armour, the head of the American meat company, who died estimated to be worth somewhere between $30,000,000 and $60,000,000, got his start in California, where he went as a boy, hustled around doing odd jobs and saved about $4,000.

White Youth Injured.

A little son of Mr. James M. Holland, aged about 15 years, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon while driving an empty city cart on Fifth street, near Dock. The horse attached to the vehicle stumbled and fell in the street, and the boy, who was standing, was precipitated to the ground. Before he could recover himself the horse again arose and drew the cart over the boy, one of the wheels having passed over his body. The injured lad was given stimulants by residents in the locality and later was sent to his home in the vicinity of Fifth and Nixon streets, where a physician is attending him. Mr. Holland is a butcher in the Front street market.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

Adjourned Meeting of the Auditing Board Held Last Night—The Amounts Left from Fiscal Appropriations.

An adjourned session of the City Board of Audit and Finance, in place of the regular meeting, which was not held on the first Tuesday night in January on account of the lack of a quorum, was held last night, all members having been present except Mr. W. A. Risch.

Action of the Aldermen at their meeting Monday night in instructing the city clerk and treasurer to refund taxes to certain individuals who had paid on stock in the Atlantic National Bank, and which had previously been paid by that institution, was concurred in as was also their action in reducing privilege tax on junk dealers from $5.50 to $3.50 per month.

Bills of Iredell Meares, Esq., to the amount of $232 80 for professional services in defending suits against the city and city policemen brought by E. D. McIlhenny, W. T. Mercer, Ira C. Williams and others, was audited and approved.

Mr. W. H. Northrop, the clerk, submitted a statement of the amounts unexpended on January 1st, 1901, of the appropriations made for the fiscal year, as follows: Streets and wharves, $5,171,47; police, $7,423.03; hospital, $666.72; salaries, $2,379.16; public buildings, $3,565 60; fire department, $7,021.02; prisoners, $355.38; lights, $3,469.37; markets, $416.65; printing, stationery and advertising, $552.47; water works, $2,300.00; sanitary, $493 40; miscellaneous and extraordinary, $853.40; elections, $700.

These balances are expected to run the various departments until April 1st next. During the year there was an extra appropriation of $16 450.00 for streets and wharves, making a total of the amount appropriated for this purpose $46,350 00. Of this amount, it will be seen from the above that there yet remains $5,171 47 unexpended, which will be sufficient for the work now mapped out by the committee.

AN OLD FAVORITE HERE.

The inimitable Guy Woodward, "known to everybody on and off the stage and with a smile for each," is here with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Cregahn to begin rehearsals next week in the newly organized Crescent Stock Company, which will begin a tour for the balance of the theatrical season with a week's engagement at the Wilmington Opera House, beginning Monday night week.

Mr. A. B. Simpkins, the well known New York theatrical man, is manager of the new company which will carry 18 people, including a ladies' orchestra of nine pieces. The cast is made up of the leading players in the well known Woodward-Warren Company and the Una Clayton Company, which is now concluding an engagement in Atlanta and which was favorably received by Wilmington theatre-goers once before this season. Members of the last named company who are to complete the cast in the Crescent Company are expected Sunday so that rehearsals may begin promptly on Monday.

Suit for Damages.

Frank Carter, colored, through his attorneys, Bellamy & Peschau, has given notice of the institution of a suit in the New Hanover Superior Court for the recovery of $5,000 from the Cape Fear Lumber Company, alleging that he received injuries while loading a railroad car in 1899 by which this amount of damage was sustained.

A PAINT FACTORY.

AN IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE.

Mr. T. Frank Simmons Resigns as Manager of Inter-State Telephone Exchange and Will Be Associated in the New Business.

Mr. T. Frank Simmons, for four years past the capable manager of the Interstate Telephone Exchange in this city, has resigned his position with the company, to take effect February 1st, and will be associated after that date with Mr. Henry Pannill, who has recently removed from Petersburg, Va., to this city, in the manufacture of his celebrated roof paints.

Mr. L. A. Carr, president of the Interstate Company, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city last evening, and will look after the matter of Mr. Simmons' successor, though no announcement as to appointment has yet been made. Mr. Simmons, by his tireless energy and extraordinary business ability, is responsible for the present very flourishing condition of the Interstate Exchange in this city, and it will be exceedingly difficult for the company to find a man more fitted for the position than he. When he came to the Exchange four years ago there were only 60 subscribers; now there are 420. Many lines in the surrounding country have also been extended from Wilmington and upon the whole, the record is an enviable one.

The announcement of Mr. Simmons' resignation brings with it news of an important manufacturing enterprise for the city in the very near future. Mr. Simmons will be associated with Mr. Pannill in the manufacture of his celebrated paint and oil products under the name of the Pannill Roof Paint Company and a very extensive plant will be installed in a handsome three story brick building which Mr. Simmons will erect on his lot just back of S. W. Sander's store, facing on Second street, the same being between Market and Princess streets. The one-story buildings at present located on the lot will be torn away to give place to the factory and salesrooms.

While many people will regret that Mr. Simmons is to leave the telephone business they will nevertheless be pleased to know that he is to remain in Wilmington and be connected with a larger and, perhaps, more important industry.

RIVER STEAMER SUNK.

The Hawes, With All Her Freight, at the Bottom of the Cape Fear River.

The river steamboat Hawes, which arrived last night from Hawesville, on the Northeast river, with a heavy freight, sunk at her wharf, foot of Chesnut street, about 3.00 o'clock this morning. All the boat hands, ten in number, escaped, but some of them had to swim for their lives. The steamer had on board as freight 330 barrels of rosin, 60 sacks of cotton seed, poultry and other produce. The cause of the disaster could not be ascertained, though it is supposed she sprung a leak, being heavily loaded.

Will Go to Annapolis.

Mr. Louis Davis, son of Junius Davis, Esq., of this city, has been appointed from this district to a cadetship in the U. S. Naval Academy by Congressman John D. Bellamy. He will enter St. John's military school, at Manlius, N. Y., to prepare for his entrance examination at Annapolis in July. Mr. Davis has been at Horner's military school for the past few months and has made a splendid record in scholarship. He is a bright young man and his appointment is a deserved compliment.

Wilmington Lodge, I. O. O. F.

It is expected that a large number of members will be present, as the team will, in conferring this degree, be selected for January 16th, when it will go to Chadbourn to confer the degrees upon 31 members of a new lodge to be instituted there by Grand Master Marcus W. Jacobi. When the new members are initiated to-night, Wilmington Lodge will have a membership of 174 in good standing.

On and after Thursday, January 10th, the following ordinance will be rigidly enforced:

SECTION 5.—No person shall place in any street or alley, nor upon any sidewalk, any boxes, casks, crates, vehicles, or other obstructions. Provided, however, that building material, earth and other obstructions of like character, may, by permission from the Mayor, in writing, be allowed, under such restrictions as he may impose. And every person having obtained such permission, and placing the obstructions, shall remove the same when notified by the Mayor so to do. Every person offending against these provisions shall be fined twenty-five dollars for each and every offence, and a like sum for each and every day that such obstructions are permitted to remain. And all persons placing any obstructions as aforesaid, whether with or without permission, shall be liable for all damage or injury occasioned thereby. Provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person from loading or unloading any wagon, cart or dray, at any house, warehouse or store.

The Morning Star

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 10.

A REBUKE TO THE GRABBERS

Last Sunday Cardinal Gibbons delivered a sermon in the Cathedral, in Baltimore, in which he spoke of the wars of the century just closed and the ravages they had caused. After dwelling at some length on them he turned his attention to the present day, and said:

"Is it not a mockery of justice and a scandal to the Pagan world to see two Christian nations cutting each other's throat in the flame of Christian civilization? Is it not an outrage to contemplate one nation forcing by the sword her laws, her government and political institutions on another nation, in the interests of trade and commerce, as if merchandise and dollars and cents were of more value than human lives? Is it not monstrous to see a strong Power invading a weak one, and seizing her territory on the hypocritical plea of rectifying her boundaries? This rectification of boundaries is a very old practice, and is a polite name for robbery on a large scale.

"The old Roman Empire 2,000 years ago was constantly engaged in rectifying its boundaries. It did not stop till it had annexed all of Europe and a good slice of Asia and Africa. But the day of retribution came at last. The warlike tribes of the North swooped down like avenging eagles on that decaying and corrupt body—the Roman Empire, and rectified her boundaries over again. The empire was dismembered and the map of Europe was changed.

"It is a subject of great concern to the friends of the Gospel of peace that Christian Europe presents to-day the spectacle of a huge military camp. All the nations of the Continent, as well as England, are armed to the teeth, and are living in mutual dread and distrust of each other. They are devoured by an insatiable ambition of conquest and dominion or by a fear of invasion. When you see heavy clouds surcharged with the electricity of war hanging over these nations, you may expect the thunder clap of battle to resound at any moment. Armed nations like armed individuals are a constant menace to one another and are easily provoked to fight.

"And these military forces instead of diminishing are unhappily increasing every year. As soon as one nation augments its armament, its neighbor feels impelled to do likewise in self protection. According to a report compiled and published in 1887, from official sources, the army list of Europe on a war footing comprised nearly 14,000,000 of men, and the annual cost of maintaining the military establishments, even in time of peace, exceeded $600,000 000. At the present time the cost would probably amount to one thousand millions.

"When we consider the immense number of men that are torn from the bosom of their families in the prime of life, that are withdrawn from active, industrial pursuits, when we see these young men vegetating in idleness in time of peace, and luxuriating in license and dissipation in time of war, we may form some idea of the moral, material and social evils resulting from such a system.

"May God so guide our legislators and statesmen that they may never be betrayed into imitating European Governments by the establishment of formidable standing armies. God forbid that we ourselves, flushed with recent victories, should ever become intoxicated with the wine of imperialism or militarism, but may we always follow the traditions of the Fathers of the Republic.

"Hitherto we have presented to the world a beautiful spectacle. Europeans accustomed at home to meet a soldier or gendarme at every street corner, on arriving in this country have been filled with surprise and admiration that a nation of so vast an extent, and with such an immense population contains an army of only 25,000 men. They have been forcibly impressed with the fact that they can travel from Maine to California without meeting a single soldier. They see that every citizen of the United States is a soldier without uniform, engaged in the active pursuits of life, and ready at a moment's notice to defend his country. They would feel that we are a strong nation because we bow to the majesty of the law, and are not confronted and intimidated by military satraps. May this fair picture never be defaced."

Cardinal Gibbons is not a politician, he was not talking from the standpoint of a politician, but from the standpoint of a minister of the gospel, a follower of the Prince of Peace. It was not his purpose to arouse feeling against Governments which are pursuing the policy of grab and militarism nor to antagonize the administration of Mr. McKinley, but what a scathing rebuke are these utterances to the land-grabbing nations of Europe and to the McKinley administration, which is following in their footsteps—not only in land grabbing, but in foisting upon the Republic a great standing army, one of the grievances alleged against Great Britain by the men of the Revolution, who gave us a Republic to be ruled by law and not by bayonets.

What a rebuke to the hypocrisy which undertakes to justify war upon the weak and seizing their countries on the pretence of "benevolent assimilation," and carrying to them "Christianity, civilization and freedom," when the whole world knows that the inspiring motive is territorial aggrandizement, and greed for gain, to expand our territory and our commerce, that there may be more vantage ground to carry out schemes in other lands and find more markets for the stuff we have to sell, a motive confessed by the more honest and candid of the land-grabbers.

And these are "Christian" nations, which profess to be anxious to carry the light of civilization and Christianity into dark lands unto benighted peoples, whose soldiers exterminate, burn, pillage and ravish as they march, and thus by lesson teach the benighted how little they believe in the doctrines they profess, or what a ghastly mockery their kind of "Christianity" is.

How forcibly we see all this illustrated to-day, in this dawn of the twentieth century, with all its progress and enlightenment, in South Africa, where "Christian" Britain is laying waste the country and murdering men because they refuse to surrender their country and have the courage to fight for it; in China, where the allied nations, every one of which has some scheme of its own to accomplish, have perpetrated atrocities as criminal in them as the barbarities perpetrated by the Boxers; and in the Philippines by the United States, whose historic policy and principles are ignored and trampled upon by the advocates of the new departure, the policy of grab and national degradation.

There are millions of as good, true, patriotic Americans as ever walked the earth who endorse every word of this cutting rebuke by this eminent divine, who American as he is, minister of the gospel as he is, protests against this piracy of nations, this brutal trampling upon the weak, this hypocrisy of pretence and this policy of grab and militarism, this revolutionary departure from the precedents set, the policies pursued and the teachings of the Fathers who founded the Republic, made it great, the hope of the oppressed and the admiration of men.

ON THE WRONG TRACK.

Ex Governor Boutwell, of Massachusetts, and thousands of other anti-imperialist Republicans, are doubtless, thoroughly sincere in their opposition to imperialism and the expansion policy of the McKinley administration, but they propose a very slow process of combatting it when they talk about organizing a new party with anti-imperialism as its cardinal principle. With two great parties like the Democratic and the Republican parties already in the country, embracing nearly all the voters, the organization of a new party would be very slow at best, and the day of its success at the polls a long way off. Within the past decade a score or so of new parties have been organized, some of which have died, and the rest of which have scarcely left a track on the political turf.

In commenting on this movement the Philadelphia Times offers the following for the serious consideration of ex-Governor Boutwell and others of his kind:

"Ex Governor Boutwell, of Massachusetts, a pronounced anti Imperialist, was recently written to by a friend in New York asking him to cooperate in the formation of a new party based upon anti imperialism, the gold standard, tariff reform civil service reform and opposition to trusts. Mr. Boutwell replied in a vigorous letter in which he favored the formation of a new party upon the single issue of opposition to the present imperial policy of the Republican party, holding this to be fundamental to the preservation of the republic. On this basis he would seek to unite friends of the gold standard and its opponents, the friends of a protective policy and those who believe in a tariff for revenue only.

"In his assumption that the issue of imperialism is fundamental and that social and economic questions can be left to be settled later Mr. Boutwell is entirely right. He goes astray in assuming that it is either necessary or expedient to found a new party to secure the defeat of imperialism. The Democratic party is already antagonistic to the imperial policy—made its antagonism the paramount issue in the late Presidential campaign, and on this issue polled more than six millions of votes. It will be both easier and more sensible for Mr. Boutwell and those of his way of thinking to add their votes to those of this great Democratic host for the purpose of defeating imperialism than to undertake to do it by the formation of a new party."

If they want to build up a new "gold standard, tariff reform, civil service reform and opposition to trusts" party, let them join in with the Democratic party, help it to knock imperialism out and then proceed with their new party building.

When President McKinley visits California in May it is said he will stand on one side of the line and shake hands with President Diaz, of Mexico, who will stand on the other. This is to avoid possible complications that might arise by his stepping over into Mexico. Are they afraid that Teddy might jump his claim if he found that McKinley had vacated the country for a little while?

Last Saturday the Atlanta Journal issued a fac simile edition of Harmsworth's issue of the New York World. But the Journal wasn't stuck on the Harmsworth style enough to stick to it.

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES

Taking North Carolina as an example, the Richmond Leader gives Virginia some good advice in the following:

"A Raleigh correspondent says that it is known that in one instance alone the State Museum was the means of causing a million dollar investment to be made in North Carolina. During the administration of Governor Jarvis, years ago, North Carolina adopted the policy of advertising herself, and in one instance a car loaded with North Carolina products was sent around the country and exhibited here and there. Other devices were employed to bring the resources of the State into public notice, and as a result many settlers were induced to come in and large outside capital was invested in the State.

"Other Southern States have been advertising themselves to advantage, but Virginia has not kept pace with them in this respect. Yet no State in the South, perhaps, has so much to advertise and offers so many inducements to settlers as does this old State of Virginia. We ought to turn over a new leaf during the new year and make greater efforts in this direction. We are too prone to live in the past. We talk too much about the old days, about our wonderful achievements in the remote past, and too little about the living present and the practical affairs of the day. It is all right to love and reverence the heroes of old and to exploit the great deeds of our ancestors, but this sort of thing does not build up and make business. This is a very practical age and we must not exploit our relics at the expense of our prosperity."

Whether this statement as to the State Museum is literally true or not, there is little doubt that the Museum has been instrumental in inducing the investment of considerable capital in this State, and so also have been the exhibits of our minerals, woods and other products at the various interstate and international expositions which have been held, beginning with the exposition at Atlanta some years ago, when the first systematic attempt was made at a State exhibit. At every one of these expositions North Carolina's exhibit, though not so large as those from some of the other States, attracted much attention and met with favorable comment.

In discussing the value of museums as methods of attracting capital and investment, we have heretofore suggested the establishment of local museums at central points on highways of travel, where specimens of the principal minerals and other non-perishable products could be classified, and kept on exhibit so that visitors seeking investment in mines, quarries, timber, etc., or in farming, might see at a glance what that section produced. All this could be done very easily and at small cost if the communities would interest themselves in it and take hold of it in earnest.

BEGINNING TO REALIZE IT.

The interview with Lord Raglan, cabled from London and published in the STAR yesterday, shows that Great Britain is at last beginning to realize the proportions of the task she has undertaken in trying to subjugate the Boers and seize their country.

The British war managers have acted on the assumption that all that it was necessary to do was to overcome the Boer armies, drive them from their strongholds and that would be the end of it, but they have done this and yet the situation to-day is as embarrassing for the British as it was the day the war began. Instead of fighting an enemy centered at a few strategic points, they have to fight small, but aggressive, daring and resolute armies scattered over a large area, which, if defeated, cannot be pursued for want of cavalry, so that it is more on horses than on men that Great Britain depends to accomplish her schemes.

And horses must be acclimated, as shown by the fact that over 100,000 have died in Africa since the war began. It takes time to acclimate them. Even then there is an immense task in supplying great numbers of horses with feed on the march, and the great bulk of that feed must be shipped long distances, because the country cannot be depended upon to supply it.

Whatever opinions may have prevailed in England as to a speedy termination of the war, they will probably change, if they have not already changed, on reading this interview with Lord Raglan. This is one instance in which a bullying, grasping nation over-reached itself, and got hit hard with its own boomerang."

The trouble in Venezuela seems to be about some pitch concessions that the Government made to an American company and proposes to take away from it to give to another American company. But that's no reason why this Government should pitch in and get mixed up in that business.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, which ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now I am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Troubles. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles 10c at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. Every bottle guaranteed. †

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Durham Sun: Sunday morning Mr. W. W. Perkinson, one of Durham's most highly respected citizens, passed away suddenly at the home of Mr Walter A. Jenkins. It is supposed that heart trouble was the cause of his death.

— Goldsboro Argus: The death of Gen. Wm. Gaston Lewis, who won his title on the field of valor in the defence of the Southern Confederacy, occurred at his home in this (Tuesday) morning, of pneumonia, in the 66th year of his age, surrounded by his fond wife and devoted children and ministering friends. Gen. Lewis was the youngest Brigadier General of the Confederate army, and he it was who led the last charge at Appomattox, and was desperately wounded in that memorable conflict. —— The death of Mrs. A. McDurmond occurred at her home in this city Monday night. She had been ill for only a few days.

— Charlotte Observer: The greed for gain has driven some of the local pot hunters mad on the subject of birds. Within the last few days many song birds, among the number mocking birds, thrushes, catbirds and the like, have been killed and sold on the Charlotte market. A long string of birds of song and beautiful plumage, one of which was a mocking oird, was seen dangling in front of a produce store on College street yesterday. With the exception of the quails there was not an edible bird in the lot. —— "Matilda Mary Elizabeth Brown, colored, of Clear Creek township, was in the city yesterday. She came in with her son in law and rode on a bale of cotton in a wagon. Peggy, as she is known, declared at the cotton platform that she was over 102 years old. Her husband died six years ago at the age of 99. She has no teeth and is looking like a bundle of well-preserved skin and bones."

— Monroe Journal: In the death of Mr. Jas Houston, which occurred at his home in Jackson township, last Wednesday, January 2nd, the county lost one of its best and most honored men. Mr. Houston was a little more than eighty three years old. —— Mrs. Mittie Boggan, wife of Mr. Henry Boggan, died at her home near Pee Dee, Sunday evening. She was a daughter of Mr. Wm. Bivens of this county. —— Mr. Frank Eubanks, a Democratic registrar before the last election, in Marshville precinct, was arrested Monday on the indefinite charge of "Deprivation of rights guaranteed by the constitution." The indictment was brought in the Federal Court in Charlotte in December. The citizen who, it is claimed, was denied his constitutional privileges is, of course, a colored gen'man. He was placed under a $1,000 bond for his appearance at the June term of the Federal Court in Charlotte.

— Greensboro Record: It looks very much like the new jail was soon to be christened with a hanging. Besides the case of criminal assault, mentioned last week, one man is in jail charged with murder—the killing of Dolph Causey two weeks or more ago. It was given out at the time that Will Headen was the man. He is implicated and so is his uncle, Jim Headen, but this was kept until to-day. This morning at 3 o'clock, Deputy Sheriff Weatherly, accompanied by Constable Scott, left town for the country. At a little place called Goshen, where there is a church—six miles south of Greensboro—they found and arrested Jim Headen, an uncle of Will Headen, and brought him to town and locked him up. The officers claim that this is the man who fired the first shot and that this is the shot that killed Causey, though after this Will Headen jerked the pistol away from Jim and fired four more shots. However, they say they will soon have Will behind the bars, so that in any event they will have the man who did the killing.

—— Duke Henry, who has been asked to marry the Queen of Holland, seems disposed to look a gift horse in the mouth. He is disturbed because the Dutch debate how much money they will allow him per annum, and how much in case the queen dies after the marriage. This is the trouble about his dukelets. He does not understand the part of the hired man.—Mobile Register, Dem,

—— According to a contribution to the Brooklyn Eagle, President McKinley wishes to build up a white Republican party in the South. THE MOOSE HUNTER.

There is no better test of what there is of a man than to strip him of the conventionalities and accessories of civilization and leave him to his own resources in the heart of a wilderness like that of Maine. Some of those whom the world esteems great and wise would starve forthwith, while many of those who live and die unknown to fame would "wax and grow fat." There is one denizen of the Maine woods that stands pre-eminent to all others which claim the attention of sportsmen—pre-eminent in size, pre-eminent in the uncouth grandeur of his gigantic bulk, pre-eminent in the time, patience, labor and skill involved in his capture and pre-eminent in power to thrill the steadiest nerves and cause the blood to flow in quick throbbing beats like quicksilver in the veins.

The sportsman who has not confronted a bull moose in his native wilds has missed an experience which is well worth the best year of his life. I speak advisedly, for I have been there. Imagine, if you can, a huge bundle of muscular power, reared on great, stiltlike legs to a height of seven feet, with bristling mane and eyes which gleam viciously from beneath broad, massive antlers which sway with the huge head eight to ten feet above the ground.

Imagine yourself standing, if you have strength to stand, in front of this frightful apparition and only a few yards distant with the knowledge that if you don't kill him he will very likely kill you, your heart throbbing so painfully that your ears fairly ache with its pulsations, the blood racing through your veins like molten lead, the sweat starting from every pore in your skin, while your brain labors in vain to regain control of the wild tumult which possesses you. Imagine all this, if you can, and then multiply the sensations which it calls up 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 times, more or less, and you will have a result which approaches the reality in magnitude. The man who sends every bullet straight to the mark under such conditions as these should be excused if he brags a little about it afterward. He should also be excused if he does some very foolish things when he sees the awe inspiring monster collapse under the paralyzing shocks of the well directed bullets—i. e., dropping his rifle and trying to hug himself, attempting to turn somersaults which only land him on his head, trying to shout the great news to everybody within a hundred miles and only succeeding in making a poor little squeak somewhere down in his throat, trying—but let us drop the curtain. The ethics of sportsmanship forbid me to disclose all the absurd things even the most sedate and dignified of our craft will do on such an occasion.—Forest and Stream.

"So that's General Fullgore, is it? If I remember rightly, everybody used to call him colonel."

BRONCHITIS

may mean a mere cold or a chronic incurable inflammation of wind-pipes.

The quickest relief, for a cold, is also the most effectual balm for the worst condition of wind-pipes and lungs.

It takes the edge off a cold in a night, and relieves it progressively—one forgets it after a little.

An old bronchitis, however, is obstinate. Nothing restores the tissues, when once destroyed; and an old bronchitis has gradually impared and partly destroyed the lining of those small pipes between throat and lungs.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the balm; it sooths if it cannot restore.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

A WHOLE VILLAGE

WINONA, STARK CO., IND.

During the winter I and my family of six were taken with la grippe. The disease was very prevalent at that time in the village where I resided, nearly everyone being sick with it. Our doctors treated it as best they could, but were very unsuccessful in the treatment of it. As soon as my family were taken sick I went to the drugstore and bought six bottles of Pe-ru-na, and we all took it according to the directions given on the bottle; and although our cases seemed to be more than usually violent in the outset, yet our recovery was prompt, and we were all well much sooner than those who were treated by the regular physicians.

Many people died of this la grippe during this epidemic, and few if any, were sick so short a time as myself and family. After we were all well we had one bottle of Pe-ru-na left.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—In the cotton market to day a considerable portion of recent gains was lost and the bears once more seemed to gain positive control. Spirited speculation at no time was in evidence, practically the entire trade reported being settlements. The opening was steady, with prices three to four points higher on bullish Liverpool cables and reports that Southern spot markets were again higher on heavy export and domestic demand. Soon after the opening there was a sudden lull in buying orders from the outside and selling orders appeared from parties who had been the market's chief supporters throughout the late half cent advance. Liverpool reacted and Wall street unloaded several important lines of January and March. General selling soon gained the upper hand and prices rapidly tapered off. By noon a decline of one to three points supplanted the opening rise. Still later, the market further declined heavily under flurries of active liquidation and pounding by local bears, prompted by predictions for weak cables, estimates for liberal receipts to morrow and talk of a set back in spot cotton South. The last hour of the session was feverish. Covering for profits caused frequent slight uplifts, but the general trend of fluctuations was toward lower prices. Stop orders were reached when March touched 9 50, but quiet buying by several prominent houses eventually steadied the market which closed steady with prices net three to thirteen points lower.

Cross Words Kill a Bird.

A bird which receives a scolding is made as miserable and unhappy thereby as a child would be. To illustrate this Our Dumb Animals tells the following story:

A Massachusetts woman had a few years ago a beautiful canary bird which she dearly loved and to which she had never spoken an unkind word in her life.

One day the church organist was away, and she stopped after church to play the organ for the Sunday school. In consequence of this the dinner had to be put off an hour, and when she got home her good husband was very angry, and he spoke to her unkindly.

The things were put on, and they sat down in silence at the table, and presently the bird began to chirp at her as it always had to attract her attention. To shame her husband for having spoken so she turned to the bird and for the first time in her life spoke to it in a most violent and angry tone. In less than five minutes there was a fluttering in the cage. She sprang to the cage. The bird was dead.

Mrs. Hendricks, the wife of the late vice president of the United States, said that she once killed a mocking bird in the same way. It annoyed her by loud singing. To stop it she spoke in a violent tone and pretended to throw something at it, and within five minutes it was dead.

Defined.

"How do you define the phrase 'As black as your hat?'" asked a finical professor of a student who had just used the expression.

"Well, sir," replied the student, "I should define it as darkness that might be felt."—Stray Stories.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
FOR THE BLOOD, LIVER, LUNGS.

BREVITIES

PERSONALITIES.

James A. Page, head master of the Dwight school in Boston, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his appointment to that position.

Dr. Savas, a Greek army physician, has been appointed professor in the newly founded department of hygiene and bacteriology in the University of Athens.

William C. Whitney has already been offered as much as $75,000 for his "Danae and the Golden Rain" by Titian, which he recently bought in Paris for $50,000.

Sir Mitchell Thomson, the latest Edinburgh baronet, is, like his father before him, a timber merchant. He is 54 years old, a traveler, a sportsman, an elder in the "auld kirk" and, of course, a Conservative.

Senator C. K. Davis entertained the Old Time Telegraphers' association, at its recent reunion in Milwaukee, with tales of his experience when as a youth he served as operator near Milwaukee and delivered the messages himself.

Secretary Root received the other day a check for $100,000 in payment for his legal services in a suit settled just before his appointment to office. For work in that office for the same length of time devoted to the lawsuit he will get $1,333.

M. Foureau, the French explorer who has just returned to Paris, is reported to have said that he looks forward "to the joining in 20 years of Algeria, the Sudan and the Kongo. It is," he continued, "accomplished geographically. It will be so politically too."

The Rev. William Lennox Mills, who has just been elected coadjutor bishop of Ontario, was born in Woodstock, Ontario, and was educated at Trinity university, Toronto. He has been for many years a pronounced figure among the Anglican clergy of Montreal.

John Morley, the English politician and critic, is one of those who read nearly all the time. He has a book before him when he dines alone and when he drives and very often is seen reading while he walks about some of the most crowded portions of London.

John Ruskin's cousin, Mrs. Severn, does not object to the erection of a Ruskin memorial tablet in Westminster abbey. It is stated that when she once spoke of it to Ruskin as a possibility, when discussing his being laid to rest at Coniston, he made no objection in the event of such an honor being offered.

Rev. Father Gleeson, who spent some time in the Philippines as the Roman Catholic chaplain with the American army, has returned to San Francisco because his funds have run out. He thought that a chaplain should not draw pay from the government for his services and so depended entirely upon his own means.

Thomson Kingsford, who died recently in Oswego, N. Y., constructed with his own hands the little six horsepower engine that was the first employed in the newly discovered process of extracting starch from Indian corn. He was 72 years old and had retired from active business several years before his death, although retaining large interests in the industry that he and his father founded.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

If you want to make your garden early next spring, provide good drainage now.

Whenever black knots are cut off at any season, they should all be collected and burned.

Burn all the old wood that is cut from blackberries and raspberries to destroy the eggs of insects.

A good dressing of manure around the raspberry vines now will give a better quality of fruit next season.

This is one of the best times to kill out weeds, briers and sprouts, as many, if cut off close to the ground at this time, will not sprout again.

The plum tree does best when closely planted, 12 to 15 feet being far enough apart. Those naturally strong will help to fertilize the weaker ones.

The growing of seed is the heaviest draft on the vitality of the tree, so no more fruit should be allowed to mature than the tree can grow to full size and perfection.

There are certain limits in which cross budding is successful. The peach will succeed in the plum, the plum in the peach, pear on quince, but the nearer alike the varieties are the better the chance of success.—St. Louis Republic.

APHORISMS.

Tyranny is always weakness.—Lowell.

Patience is bitter, but its fruit is sweet.—Rousseau.

A well bred man is always sociable and complaisant.—Montaigne.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well.—Longfellow.

A brave man knows no malice, but forgets in peace the injuries of war, and gives his direst foe a friend's embrace.—Cowper.

It is imprudent to enter into partnership with a covetous man or a very passionate man or an obstinate man or a revengeful man or a familiar "crony" or a man involved.—Exchange.

Patient Meeker.

"And now," continued his angry spouse, thoroughly aroused, "I am going to give you another piece of my mind. What are you doing?"

"I am turning the other ear," patiently replied Mr. Meeker.—Chicago Tribune.

Well Trained.

"My son writes that he stands at the head in college athletics."

"Was he attentive to athletics at home?"

"Well, he was always a first class street car acrobat."—Chicago Record.

"Why not?"

"He's so polite to everybody that he can't be a person of any importance."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Hoax—I don't understand what Binks sees in Baggs that he should always speak of him as "handsome."

Joax—Quite a number of people have told Binks that he looks like Baggs.—Philadelphia Record.

"The street car bell didn't work, and the passengers had been punching him with their umbrellas."—Chicago Record.

HE OUTADMIRALED DEWEY.

Ruse by Which a Young Reporter Got the Deed Interview.

The interview with Admiral Dewey after he had deeded the house to his wife was obtained by William W. Smith, an Indianapolis boy, now a Washington correspondent.

Young Smith, the day after the deed had been transferred, had been three times at the Dewey door and had failed to get in. The Associated Press man and the newspaper folks had put in most of the day ringing the bell, with the same lack of success. When night came, young Smith concluded he would make one more effort. He attired himself in full evening dress and went to the admiral's door in a cab. To the servant who answered his ring he presented a card with no newspaper address upon it.

"The admiral is out," said the well drilled servant.

"Is he really out or is he out to some persons he does not wish to see? Please hand this card to the admiral."

The card was accompanied by a tip, and the servant was gracious. The admiral was informed that a gentleman in evening dress, who had come in his own carriage, was at the door.

The admiral looked at the card. "Smith. S-m-i-t-h," said the hero of Manila dubiously, trying to marshal the regiment of Smiths whom he had met during a lifetime. "Very well," he said at last, "show the gentleman in."

Young Mr. Smith, having secured admission, was cautious and politic. He approached the subject of the deed with great diplomacy. The admiral, smooth as had been young Smith's advance, met it with a roar. Mr. Smith recoiled; but, still firm of purpose, again and with even greater caution opened the subject. He succeeded at last in getting the interview, which bore fruit by bringing to Mr. Smith a material advance in his salary.—Indianapolis News.

Glittering Coincidence.

Not long ago Captain McDonnell of the detectives visited Cleveland and spent two days in that city. He was not greatly impressed with the efficiency of the police force, but contented himself by making comparisons with the Detroit force. A relative of the captain is employed in one of the largest jewelry houses in Cleveland, and during his visit his relative took him through the big concern. He pointed with great pride to a collection of diamonds.

"Say," remarked Captain McDonnell, "I'll have to send some of our Detroit thieves down here. Those diamonds would please them."

The next day McDonnell returned to this city, and on the day following he read in The Free Press of a robbery in the store in which his relative had been employed. The diamonds that had been pointed out to him were missing.

"It's rather a queer coincidence," said Chief McDonnell, "and it is also an example of how circumstantial evidence might throw suspicion upon an innocent party."—Detroit Free Press.

An Ear Test.

A novel and curious test for deafness or approaching deafness has been described by a Paris specialist. If the handle of a vibrating tuning fork be applied to the knee or other bony portion of the human frame, the sound cannot be heard by the person who possesses an unimpaired ear, but if the ear be attacked by disease then the note can be heard distinctly.

For Asthma use CHENEY'S EXPECTORANT.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 10.

THE HITCH IN CHINESE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Note Not Yet Signed—Anti-Foreign Element Again in Control—The Emperor. Expeditions Against Boxers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PEKIN, Jan. 8.—Li Hung Chang is better. Both he and Prince Ching balked at signing the joint note, when they considered the question, until the court was heard from again, explaining that the Emperor's edict directing them to put off signing prevented them from using the imperial seal until permission shall have been received, which permission they claim to expect hourly.

It is known here among the Chinese that the extreme anti-foreign element is now in power and that the court favorites now advise the Empress Dowager. Of these the best known are Li Chuan Lin, a cabinet minister; General Ma and Tung Fuh Siang. Their views coincide perfectly with those of the southern viceroys, particularly with those of Chang Chi Tung, who has threatened to rebel if the note is signed.

Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching both strongly urge the signing of the agreement and they believe their counsels most prevail. They have pointed out in the strongest possible terms that the very existence of China necessitates the acceptance of the terms of the Powers and that failure on the part of China to sign may mean the allies will as soon as the state of the weather makes such a step feasible, send troops over the country and that parts of the empire hereiofore untouched will feel the scourge of war.

The Germans have sent two companies of infantry to the vicinity of the Ming Tombs, where trouble is reported.

Emperor to Return to Pekin.

BERLIN, January 9.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from Count Von Waldersee:

"Pekin, January 8.—The fortress of Ho Pu, which was stormed January 3rd, was the headquarters of newly organized bands of Boxers. Over a thousand had terrorized the district, and they were planning to march on Yea-King and Chau-Ping."

SHANGHAI, January 9.—A newspaper of this city publishes a letter from Sian Fu, announcing that the Emperor has fully decided to return to Pekin to administer the reformed government. According to this letter, the Empress Dowager offers no opposition to the Emperor's determination.

Wiring from Pekin, under date of January 6th, Count Von Waldersee says:

"Colonel Pavel's column is marching to Tsi Ngon Fu, on the Pei Ho, to co-operate with Colonel Madais' column from Yen King, seventy-two kilometres northwest of Pekin.

"Colonel Pavel, after extremely severe marches over by-paths and through high mountains, stormed the fortifications January 3rd. These were defended by 10 guns and from 600 to 1,000 men. Having protected the mines, the column is returning in extended order through Yen Kin."

BERLIN, January 9.—The German Foreign Office believes Mr. Conger's view of the attitude of the Empress Dowager is correct and that the position of the Chinese court at Sian Fu is growing more and more untenable, rendering it probable that the Powers will soon succeed in persuading the Imperial personages to return to Pekin.

CULTIVATION OF TEA.

Northern Capitalists Will Go Into the Business on a Large Scale in South Carolina.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., January 9.—The unsuccessful experiments of United States Commissioner of Agriculture LeDuc, followed by the successful planting and manufacture of tea at the Pinehurst farms, Summerville, near this city, has attracted Northern capitalists, who will go into the business on a large scale and who expect to raise 300,000 pounds annually for the American market. Col. A. C. Tyler and Major R. D Trimble, of New London, Conn., and Baron J. A. Von Brunig, formerly of the German legation at Washington, are the leaders of the enterprise and have already bought four thousand acres of pine land along the line of the Charleston and Savannah railroad, fifteen miles from here. Messrs. Tyler and Trimble were in camp at Summerville during the war with Spain and saw the success of tea culture at Pinehurst. Major Trimble will, it is said, be the active head of the company.

It is said that Dr. Shepherd had this year twice as many orders for tea as he could fill.

BASE BALL LEAGUE.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 9.—Mr. E. M. Ashenback, the manager of the Newport News Hampton Base Ball Club, was here to day conferring with the local base ball men in regard to the organization of a club here to join the Virginia-North Carolina Base Ball League. The idea met with great enthusiasm and arrangements were made to perfect the organization. On January 16th several men from here will go to Norfolk to take part in organizing. The league will be ready to post a $500 forfeit to finish the season.

The teams of the league will be from the following towns: Raleigh, Greensboro and Durham, North Carolina; Danville, Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, Virginia.

It is asserted in Shanghai that Li Hung Chang is recovering, and has visited the German legation in Pekin.

ARMY CANTEEN TO BE ABOLISHED

Continuation of Debate in the Senate on the Army Reorganization Bill.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The River and Harbor Appropriation Bill Under Consideration—Little Progress Was Made—Chairman Barton's Explanation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, January 9.—The army canteen is to be abolished, as the Senate to day by a very decisive vote concurred in the House provision relative to the canteen in the Army Reorganization bill. Most of the session was occupied by Senators Teller of Colorado, Pettigrew of South Dakota, and Butler of North Carolina, who all opposed the adoption of the Senate committee's amendment, which provided for a continuance of the canteen.

It seems doubtful whether a final vote upon the Army bill will be reached before Friday or Saturday.

A resolution was adopted calling for copies of all papers and correspondence in the Department of State subsequent to July 1st, 1897, relating to its action looking to an adjustment of the claims of B. R. Henry and other American citizens against Great Britain in regard to lands in the Fiji Islands; also, whether any action has been taken in pursuance of a resolution of the Committee on Foreign Relations, adopted by the Senate June 4th, 1896.

Consideration of the Army bill was then resumed, the pending question being the canteen amendment.

Senator Gallinger said that he had been told by a prominent officer of the army that the four hundred and five American saloons in Manila were licensed by the American government there and he believed they could be completely abolished.

"I do not know the reason for the conditions in Manila," said Senator Lodge, "but I do know that under the command of General Ludlow, the establishment of saloons absolutely was stopped in Havana."

Senator Lodge gave notice of an amendment prohibiting the importation of distilled liquors into the Philippines except for medicinal purposes.

Senator Pettigrew made a characteristic attack upon the pending bill, devoting some time to a criticism of the Senate committee for not bringing into the Senate a more elaborate report in support of the measure, which he complained dealt almost exclusively with the canteen provision.

Senator Pettigrew said that the President had refused to obey the act of Congress prohibiting the sale of liquor on army reservations and had "directed" his attorney general to write an opinion in support of his refusal.

In response to questions by Senator Mallory, Senator Pettigrew said he had no doubt the attorney general could find "not reasons, but words for over riding the provision proposed by the House," as he had found them for 'over-riding the present law."

The House bill appropriating $127,000 for payment of electoral messengers was passed.

Senator Butler, North Carolina, then addressed the Senate in support of the House provision of the bill relating to the canteen.

Senator Gallinger moved that the amendment of the committee be laid on the table. The motion was carried—34 to 15.

The effect of the vote is to restore to the bill the House provision abolishing the army canteen so far as the sale of any kind of intoxicants is concerned. The section as it now stands is as follows:

"The sale or dealing in beer, wine or any intoxicating liquors by any person in any post exchange or canteen or army transport or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States is hereby prohibited. The Secretary of War is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect."

At 5 35 the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.

The House to-day considered the River and Harbor Appropriation bill. Little progress was made. In a bill carrying such a vast sum for local improvements many localities are bound to be disappointed and soreness outcropped in several places to day, the disappointed members refusing to allow any limit to be placed on the general debate.

Mr. Burton, chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, who is in charge of the bill, made an elaborate explanation of its provisions. He said the Sundry Civil bill would carry about $8 000,000 on contracts previously authorized. The total of direct appropriations for rivers and harbors for the next fiscal year would, therefore, aggregate about $32,000,000.

Mr. Burton proposed figures to show that the enormous tonnage carried up and down the lakes warranted the extensive appropriations they had received.

He explained that the Missouri river commission had been abolished by the bill because while over $11,000,000 had been expended on that river it had less commerce to day than thirty years ago.

Mr. Corliss, of Michigan, attacked the bill for not giving proper recognition to the Great Lakes deep-water way project. He contended that with a few exceptions it was not framed in the interest of the general commerce of the country.

Mr. Bishop, Michigan, denied that the committee had shown favoritism to particular localities and defied Mr. Corliss to particularize. It was only natural, he said, that the States represented by the members of the committee had received the great bulk of the appropriations in the bill.

At 5.05 P. M. the House adjourned.

FORGED MONEY ORDERS.

Homer C. Ligon, a White Man, Arrested at Dawson, Ga.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBUS, GA., Jan. 9.—Homer C. Ligon, a well known white man, was arrested at Dawson, Ga., Sunday morning, charged with forging Southern Express money orders and obtaining money on them. It is said that he obtained $200 from the Third National Bank of Columbus, and $150 from the First National Bank of Birmingham. He was arrested by one of the company's detectives. A warrant was sworn out against Ligon and Deputy Sheriff McMichael was sent to bring Ligon here. When McMichael started with Ligon, the latter objected, and a fight ensued. McMichael was later arrested on a warrant charging him with assault and battery. Ligon then agreed to come to Columbus without further resistance.

THE DEADLY MOSQUITO.

Held Solely Responsible for Propagation of Yellow Fever—Dr. Reed's Investigations.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

HAVANA, January 9.—The American commission, under the superintendence of Dr. Reed, which has been making experiments at Quemados as to the propagation of the yellow fever germs by the mosquito, has obtained extremely satisfactory results.

Dr. Reed says the experiments show beyond doubt that there is no contagion from an infected person or from infected clothing, but that the mosquitoes alone are responsible for the spread of the disease. In the course of the commission's investigations six non-immune persons were infected by the bite of mosquitoes which had previously bitten yellow fever patients, and five of these developed yellow fever.

The last experiment made proved conclusively, Dr. Reed contends, the theory of propagation by mosquitoes. A special building was constructed of disinfected material, and one of the rooms was divided into two sections by a wire mosquito screen. In one section were placed disinfected bedding and clothing, and in the other bedding and clothing from the yellow fever hospital which had not been disinfected. Two non immunes occupied the two sections.

In the former were put several infected mosquitoes. The patient remained in his room only long enough to be bitten, and in four days a pronounced case of yellow fever developed. The patient is now convalescent. The other subject slept in the infected building for many nights and has not contracted the fever.

Both patients have been sleeping for twenty nights in garments worn by yellow fever victims and in bedding from the yellow fever hospitals. Dr. Reed says they are growing fat and that in no instance, in the course of the commission's investigations, has a case of yellow fever developed from exposure to infected bedding or clothing.

IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

Fire Among Shipping—Steamer Idlewild Destroyed—Other Vessels Damaged. The Loss $500,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, January 9.—In an early morning fire on the Erie basin front, that lighted up all South Brooklyn, Beard's Shipping Stores, at the foot of Richards street, were partly destroyed, an excursion steamer, the Idlewild, was burned to the water's edge; one fireman was injured and close upon fifty seamen narrowly escaped with their lives. The total loss is estimated at $500,000.

The fire started, no one knows how, on board the Idlewild about 1 o'clock. The steamer was lying just inside the breakwater, from which point she drifted as soon as she was cut loose, directly across the Erie basin and up against one of Beard's pier heads. Soon the big covered pier, where jute and cotton were stored in bales, was in flames.

Fire Chief Croker hurried over from New York.

The steamship Coya, which recently arrived from Callao, was cut adrift from the burning pier shed and worked out into the basin. There her crew fought the flames with the deck hose, and soon had the flames under control.

On the other side of the pier was lying the tramp steamship St. Dunstan, from Liverpool, with a cargo of fruit and sugar. Her crew managed to get ashore, while the fireboats took care of the abandoned ship, quenched the flames after her deckhouse had caught fire and her port side was badly blistered and then set her adrift.

The Idlewild meanwhile had burned to the water's edge and a couple of lighters also had been destroyed. Fire tugs and engine companies poured their streams into the burning stores, but could only prevent the fire from spreading.

By 4 o'clock the flames had died down to a smoulder.

IN RAILROAD CIRCLES.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, January 9.—The Mail and Express says:

"William K. Vanderbilt's plan for the welding together of the Union Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern railroads, which he conceived more than a year ago, is now about to be carried out. When it is completed it will be found that the Vanderbilts have a through trans-continental line of their own from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans.

"The original scheme was to lease the Union Pacific to the Northwestern, but it is not yet certain whether this will be done or not. The control of the former is to be acquired through the purchase of a majority of Union Pacific stock, and this is being done in the open market.

"The Vanderbilts already have a considerable representation in the Union Pacific directory.

"It was reported in Wall street to day that the new alliance would be still further enlarged by the addition of other railroads in the Central West, including the Alton and Rock Island."

James J Hill, in an interview to-day, outlined what he and his associates in the giant railroad "community of interests," are trying to accomplish. Instead of a combination of great railroads under one system, he said he was trying to bring about an agreement between certain systems of the Northwest by which "friction" would be prevented, and roads operated more economically. He denied that he was here to see J. P. Morgan and John D. Rockefeller.

"The President has had no fever to-day and is steadily improving."

The President is strictly following the instructions of his physicians as to the necessity for his remaining in bed, and not attending to any public business. No extra nurses are employed, the servants of the house readily doing everything that is required.

A HUNDRED LIVES IN GREAT PERIL.

FUTILE EFFORTS AT RESCUE.

All Attempts of Life Savers to Reach the Vessel Prevented by the High Seas. A Thousand Anxious Watchers Along the Shore.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MARSEILLES, January 9.—Dispatches from the village of Faraman, near which the French mail steamer Russie, from Oran, Algeria, stranded Monday in a violent storm, with fifty passengers and a crew of forty on board, say that all efforts to reach the steamer have failed, owing to the tremendous height of the seas which are running. The pilot boats and torpedo boats which have attempted to reach the steamer have been unable to battle with the waves and have returned. The only hope seems to be in the ability of lifesavers to throw a line over the Russie as the wrecked vessel is driven closer to the shore. The forecastle and part of the forward deckhouse are all of the vessel remaining above water.

A signal message was received at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Russie saying all on board were alive, but begging for succor. The sea has slightly moderated, but up to the present all attempts at rescue have failed.

When nightfall yesterday enshrouded the Russie quite a number of the crew and passengers were seen clinging to the forerigging and to the rails, making despairing signals for succor, which those ashore were powerless to afford. The gale increased in fury all night long and though a flickering light was perceived from time to time, apparently waved by those on board to attract attention, it was feared the steamer would either break up or disappear in the shifting sands before morning. A thousand persons awaited along the shore and the fishermen prepared to launch a boat at the first sign of the abatement of the hurricane. When day broke it was a great relief for the watchers ashore to find that the bow and other parts of the forepart of the ship were still above water, though the stern had completely vanished. A group of men huddled on the steamer's bow renewed their mute appeals for help.

As the day wore on more persons appeared on the deck, forming three groups—one at the bow, another on the bridge, and a third around the funnel. Thus it was seen that most of the crew and passengers who, a rectified list shows, number 102, were still living.

The Russie lies partly on her beam ends, with her deck facing seaward and the seas have carried away her hatchways, filling the holds and cabins with water. Every possible expedient was tried from the shore to save the sufferers. The coast guardsmen and fishermen manned lifeboats and made several ineffectual attempts to reach the steamer, which was shifted by the incessant pounding of the seas a trifle nearer the shore. One lifeboat got half way when it was capsized and its crew swam ashore and were dragged out of the water by the people ashore who formed a line with hands joined and waded breast deep into the water in order to seize them.

A tug approached as near as possible to the wreck and then flew a kite to which a life line was attached, in the direction of the Russie, but it failed to reach the stranded vessel. Floats were also sent out from the beach with lines, but in no case did they succeed in reaching the steamer. Rockets were fired fruitlessly until the ammunition of the rocket mortars, which was very meagre, ran out.

The tugs which made repeated efforts to approach the Russie were themselves menaced with disaster and obliged to relinquish their attempts.

Late in the afternoon another expedition was essayed—that of launching a raft, with a life line, from a tug laying off the wreck. The result of this attempt to reach the endangered crew and passengers of the Russie is not yet known. Those on board of her were seen to launch floats, but these were all carried out to sea by the current. This afternoon the gale was subsiding.

Harrowing scenes were witnessed at the steamship company's office, outside of which were gathered the weeping wives and and children and other relatives of the crew, who most all hail from Marseilles. A message posted at 3:30 P. M. that all on board the Russie were alive evoked a pathetic explosion of joy.

The Russie was owned by the Societe Generale de Transports Maritimes A Vapiuer of Marseilles, and not by the Compagnie Generale Trans Atlantique.

The Russie was of 632 tons net register, and was built in 1897 at Sunderland. She was 281 feet five inches long, her beam was 37 feet and she was 25 feet seven inches deep.

Shortly after 2 o'clock, during a lull, the men on shore succeeded in getting a life-line to the Russie, but it snapped as it was being pulled on board. Other similar attempts failed; but a more hopeful feeling prevails, in view of the indications that the weather is clearing. A message from the Russie says: "The passengers are kept below, but all the crew are at their posts, and the captain and officers are lashed to the bridge. The seamen tried to construct several rafts, but, as they neared completion, they were washed away.

The sinking of the stern in the sand proves to have been a lucky thing for those on board, as the bow of the mail boat is tilted high above all save the biggest waves and affords a refuge. Otherwise it is believed that all would have long since perished.

The cruiser Galilee and a tug with rocket apparatus left Toulon arsenal this evening to attempt to rescue the passengers.

SEABOARD AIR LINE.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PORTSMOUTH, VA., January 9.—The directors of the Seaboard Air Line, accompanied by President John Skelton Williams, spent about three hours this morning in inspecting their wharf property, and then held a closed meeting until about 1 P. M., when they adjourned to the residence of Hon. Leigh R. Watts, general counsel for the system, for luncheon. In the afternoon they held another session, lasting until about 6 P. M., at the close of which it was announced that there was nothing to be given out for publication. Soon after this the directors left for an inspection trip over the Seaboard system.

No reliable information is to be had as to what transpired at the meetings. Every day now employes are being lopped off by the dozen. Fifty to seventy five were discharged to-day, and it is said the axe is still kept handy for use later. The reduction is being made in all departments. It is believed that expenditures will be cut wherever possible.

At the meeting of the Camp of the Army of the Tennessee, United Confederate Veterans, the strongest of the Confederate associations in New Orleans, a resolution offered by General Stephen Chalaron, commander of the camp, protesting against the invitation of President McKinley to the Confederate reunion to be held in Memphis next Spring was unanimously adopted. General Chalaron explained that "it was understood the President would be invited to Memphis and the resolution was intended simply as a warning to Memphis not to do it."

Ignored by Memphis.

MEMPHIS, TENN., January 9.—The protest of a New Orleans camp of the Confederate Veterans against inviting President McKinley to attend the Confederate re-union here next May will be ignored so far as Memphis is concerned.
